

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS 2024

KMEC University | Approved by the Academic Council | Effective from Academic Year 2024-25

1. Degree Progression and Credit System

All undergraduate degree programmes follow a semester-based credit system. Students progress through eight semesters by earning prescribed course credits, completing mandatory internships, and satisfying academic and conduct requirements.

Programme stage	Credit expectation	Progression requirement
End of Year I	Minimum 36 earned credits	No more than two backlog courses
End of Year II	Minimum 84 earned credits	Completion of foundation and laboratory credits
End of Year III	Minimum 132 earned credits	Eligibility for capstone project registration
Graduation	Minimum 160 earned credits	All required courses and project successfully completed

2. Minimum CGPA Requirement

A student must secure a cumulative grade point average (CGPA) of 6.50 or higher on the 10-point scale to be eligible for the award of a degree. Students below 6.50 CGPA may improve eligible course grades under the University improvement examination provisions.

Credits earned through approved electives, industry immersion and community engagement shall count only when the corresponding assessment has been successfully completed.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS 2024

3. Attendance and Condonation

Attendance is recorded for every scheduled lecture, tutorial, laboratory and studio session. A minimum attendance of 75% in each registered course is mandatory for permission to appear in the end-semester examination.

Attendance band	Examination eligibility	Required action
75% and above	Eligible	No additional action required
65% to below 75%	Condonable	Submit medical proof and prescribed application to the Dean
Below 65%	Not eligible	Repeat course attendance in a subsequent offering

3.1 Medical Condonation

Attendance between 65% and 74.99% may be condoned only for documented medical circumstances. The student must submit original medical proof, a treating physician's certificate and an application within seven working days of return to class. Condonation is discretionary and is limited to one course review per semester.

3.2 Attendance Review

The Department Attendance Review Committee shall publish provisional attendance before examination registration. Students may submit factual corrections within three working days; the Committee's recommendation is forwarded to the Dean for final decision.

4. Examination Guidelines

End-semester examinations are conducted according to the notified timetable. Students shall carry a valid identity card and admit card, occupy only the assigned seat, and follow invigilator instructions. Use of unauthorized notes, electronic devices or communication during an examination is prohibited.

4.1 Assessment and Results

Course grades combine continuous assessment and end-semester performance as specified in the approved syllabus. Requests for scrutiny or revaluation must be filed through the Controller of Examinations within the announced period after publication of results.

5. Academic Integrity and Disciplinary Committees

Suspected malpractice, plagiarism, impersonation or disruption is reported to the Examination Disciplinary Committee. The Committee provides written notice, records the student's explanation and recommends proportionate action. Serious or repeated violations may be referred to the University Academic Integrity Committee.

Committee	Responsibility
Examination Disciplinary Committee	Reviews examination incidents and recommends penalties
University Academic Integrity Committee	Hears serious, repeated or appeal cases involving academic misconduct
Controller of Examinations	Issues final examination orders and maintains official records
